Personal Session and Case Consult Pricing Policy

This section contains pricing for personal sessions, individual case consults, and small group case consults supporting SEP requirements and SE trainings.

Individual approved providers set their fees. This policy allows the providers to determine their fees based on factors such as the cost of living and the standard cost for comparable services in their respective regions. Approved providers are still able to set a common fee for services for sessions and consults offered at training sites. In setting fees, FHE asks the session providers to consider FHE's non-profit value, ethics and status as well as the public service and education mission. Session fees must encompass both the fair compensation for professional service rendered by the session providers and the affordability of sessions to training participants whose socio-economic resources vary widely.

As a matter of ethical standard providers may not refuse service to participants on scholarship. Providers agree to offer personal sessions and individual case consultations to scholarship students at no more than $100/hour or $75/credit hour for group case consultations. To receive this rate, or a more favorable new one set by approved providers, the participant will disclose their scholarship receipt. This information can be verified by FHE or regional organization or organizer.

SCOPE

- This policy applies to personal sessions, individual case consults, and small group case consults that fulfill the requirements for the SEP certificate.
- The policy further applies to any personal sessions, individual case consults, and small group case consults required by an SE training.
- The policy does not differentiate between a faculty member and non-faculty member provider.
- Pricing for large group case consultations provided by faculty members at SE trainings remains unchanged by this policy.

Privacy Policy

Somatic Experiencing International takes precautions – including administrative, technical, and physical measures – to safeguard your personal information against loss, theft, and misuse, as well as against unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction. The Institute does not share, sell or rent your information to third parties.

Student & Assistant Health Policy

Students understand that their participation in or involvement with the Training may present a health risk to me and/or, if they are pregnant or may be pregnant, to my unborn child. Illness, stress, and other periods of significant personal difficulty can present a health risk. If student may suffer from any health risk or be pregnant and elect to proceed with the Training they do so at my own risk. Student accepts full liability for their participation and involvement with the Training. If student withdraws from the Training due to any health risk or pregnancy, the Institute refund policy applies.

Cohorts

The SE Trauma Institute strongly recommends that students continue their training in the location in which they began. Staying in a single location for Beginning I through Intermediate III helps create a cohesive class environment and encourages students to take advantage of the support network of their SE cohort. Over time the ability to explore the class material deeply will strengthen with the bond between students, training assistants, and faculty.

A NOTE ABOUT ADVANCED MODULES (US & CANADA)

Because of the infrequency of the advanced trainings and the limited locations in which they are held, the student understands that remaining in a cohort throughout the Advanced year of the SE Professional Training is highly unlikely. Advanced trainings are not cohorts but regional trainings, therefore your spot in an Advanced training is not secure until your pending registration is approved.

Required travel should be expected for the Advanced year.

Informed Consent & Release Policy

- 1) The Somatic Experiencing® International mandates that prior to the submission of a new student application, the prospective student must agree to the following clauses and submit a statement certifying that all the information included in this agreement is true and complete. I hereby release the Institute and its related parties from any and all liability or responsibility for any acts or omissions of any Provider and any claims related thereto. I understand that the Institute makes no representations or warranties about the characteristics or quality of the services I may receive.

- I understand that the Institute is the exclusive owner or licensee of all materials utilized in the Training including, but not limited to, all printed, audio, video, digital, online, and other materials (“Materials”). - If I wish to present Somatic Experiencing in a public format, I hereby agree and acknowledge that I must be a presenter approved by the Institute. (Please contact ipadmin@traumahealing.org.)
- In the event that the Institute or its authorized representative or agent or the Training coordinator or faculty member requests that I discontinue my participation and involvement with the Training, I will immediately leave the Training and the premises upon which the Training is being held. If I withdraw from the Training the Institute refund policy applies.
- I understand that my participation in or involvement with the Training may present a health risk to me and/or, if I am pregnant or may be pregnant, to my unborn child. Illness, stress, and other periods of significant personal difficulty can present a health risk. If I may suffer from any health risk or be pregnant and elect to proceed with the Training I do so at my own risk. I accept full liability for my participation and involvement with the Training. If I withdraw from the Training due to any health risk or pregnancy, the Institute refund policy applies.
- I agree to abide by all Institute policies, procedures, and guidelines as posted on the Institute website at traumahealing.org. All Institute policies, procedures, and guidelines are subject to change without notice to me and will be updated on the Institute website. I understand and agree that it is my responsibility to check the website for updates and that I am nonetheless bound by all such policies, procedures, and guidelines.

Membership Directory Policy

The SE Practitioner Directory is the primary source for SE referrals worldwide. When browsing the internet for SE professionals, our Directory is the first resource displayed. In addition, our faculty, staff, and other professionals use the Directory to make referrals. If you are listed, you have the opportunity to receive these valuable referrals and to support those in need of your services. Your membership dues support the SE Trauma Institute in developing new programs and providing scholarships for low-income professionals serving individuals and communities in need.

MEMBERSHIP TERM, RENEWAL, EXPIRATION

- Membership term is for 12 months. Renewals are based on the anniversary date of joining. Periodically, members will receive renewal reminders. SE Trauma Institute can revoke membership at any time. Membership fees are not considered a charitable donation. However, if you are self-employed, you may be able to write off your membership dues as a business expense.
- Profiles will not be made active until payment is received.
- Upon expiration on your anniversary date, your profile is automatically removed from the Directory. It remains ready to reactivate once you pay your dues.
- No advertising unless approved by the Institute

Advertising of any kind must be approved by the Institute for listing trainings, merchandise or services. Please contact <mailto:membership@traumahealing.org>.

Complaints about a practitioner should go to member's professional association that they belong to, not the Institute.

- The Somatic Experiencing® International neither endorses nor recommends the individuals listed on this website. The Somatic Experiencing® International cannot make assurances any individual would be suitable for the needs of a particular individual. Users of this directory understand and agree that the Somatic Experiencing® International is neither liable nor responsible for any actions of those using or choosing to list in this directory.

The contact information for individuals listed in this directory is to be used solely for professional referrals and is not to be used for marketing, solicitation, or other commercial purposes.

Designation of SEP or Practitioner in training titles

- Those listed as "SE™ Practitioners (SEP)" have completed our full training program. Those listed as "Practitioner in Training" are in the process of completing our program and are actively integrating SE skills into their primary area of practice.

Code of Ethics

Given its mission, Somatic Experiencing® International has adopted a code of ethics to guide its Board members, committee members, and staff in their conduct when acting on behalf of Somatic Experiencing® International. The Code contains broad principles reflecting the types of behavior Somatic Experiencing® International expects towards constituents, donors, employees, peers, and the public.

Compliance, Monitoring, and Reporting

Somatic Experiencing® International management is responsible for communicating this Code of Ethics to all members of the Board of Directors, standing committee members, staff, staff interns, and staff volunteers and for ensuring its adherence at all times.

Complaint process

Formal complaints may be addressed to compliance@traumahealing.org, which will be reviewed by the Human Resources Department.

Language Policy

Applicants who wish to enroll in the Somatic Experiencing® International 3-year training and auxiliary courses must be proficient in the language in which they are being taught in which includes the ability to read, write, understand and communicate in that language prior to enrollment. One of the objectives in each program is to enhance students' communication skills with the instructor, classmates, clients and the general public and the proficiency of the language that the material is being taught is essential. If the instructor determines that a student's language skills are not adequate, he/she may be required to hire an interpreter at his/her own expense, or be asked to leave the program until skill level is improved.

Training Travel Policy

Students are solely responsible for making their own travel arrangements. FHE assumes no responsibility for student's flights, transportation, lodging arrangements or visas required to attend SE trainings and events.

If students are attending trainings in foreign countries FHE recommends students review their individual travel requirements and country requirements carefully prior to registering for and attending any event.

SEP Approvals can take up to 3 weeks to process. If the cover page is not filled out or the packet does not meet the specified guidelines, the processing time may be extended.

Please keep all session logs until all of your hours have been completed. We are not responsible for retaining incomplete logs. Be sure to always save a copy of your logs for yourself. We are not responsible for lost session logs.

Study Group Policy

Study groups are intended for review of SE course material, discussions and practice of SE techniques already learned within the SE training context, and elaboration of theories and techniques already covered in the SE training (such as the Polyvagal theory). Study groups have been known to be led by students, assistants or coordinators. The leading of a study group does not authorize the provider to make actual presentations of SE material or engage in teaching SE methods, unless the study group is being conducted by an SE faculty member or someone formally accepted to faculty track. The tracking, coordination and monetary decisions and responsibilities of these study groups fall solely on the leader of the study groups and those choosing to attend. Study groups will remain entirely separate from SETI and SETI will not hold authority over them. Most study groups are student led and free of charge. Should you lead a study group where you require a fee to join please consider SETI's non-profit value, ethics and status as well as the public service and education mission.
